“ Please accept my sincere condolences for your loss. Death is the enemy of all mankind, yet when it touches us personally, few receive the comfort they search for. In times like these I know I can find comfort in God's word. In John 5:28,29 He tells us "Do not be amazed at this, for the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out." As the God and Father of tender mercies, He wants you to find comfort in Him through prayer (2 Cor 1:3).

“ I was very saddened to read about Joyce's passing. We met many years ago when we were both on the committee to organize Vacation Bible School, and every time I have seen her since, she always had a brilliant smile and kind word. May God give strength, comfort and peace to her family and close friends, and all of us who will miss her bright light.

“ I knew Joyce when we attended FUMC in Saline. Her bubbly personality and smile were always welcoming to everyone. After 10 years, I reconnected with Joyce when she went back to work at my doctor's office. What a great time we had catching up, laughing and truly connecting again. What a very special person. Heaven truly got an angel when Joyce arrived. My sincere sympathy to her family and friends.

“ I got to hold Joyce when she was only a couple months old and I remember those beautiful eyes and warm smile. I knew Joyce was special then, and after reading all the posts from the lives she has touched, Joyce was very very special. I am deeply sadden that Joyce has left us, but happy to know she is looking down from heaven at us with those beautiful eyes and warm smile. The McCuen family sends our deepest condolences to the Sharky family and to the Noble family.

Mitch:

Over the years of working together, I never tired of hearing you talk about your family. I always enjoyed hearing about the Saline fiddlers stories - and of course was tickled by the great irony of a proud Michigan Grad having been produced from a devout Buckeye. I always left those conversations glad that I could spend the time hearing from a proud Dad and I know that you were pretty pleased with the good job that you and Joyce had done.

The consequence of the good life together is that the pain of loss is greater. But I'm sure that if you had known in advance that that was the deal, you still would have taken it.

I hope that as soon as is possible, all of your thoughts and memories of Joyce will bring nothing but happiness and contentment.

Your Everts Family - October 08, 2013 at 12:58 PM

“ Dear Mitch, I am deeply sorry for your loss, but heavens gain. I went to a retreat with her and had times of prayer and deep sharing. I always enjoyed her enthusiasm for life, she was beautiful inside and out. Love cannot be destroyed but is transformed into a state of purity and holiness in Christ, nothing can destroy the legacy she leaves of faith, love of family and friends. She will live on in us and know she is in the beauty of a sunset the miracle of a butterfly, the glorious creation but mostly the love she poured out to all who knew her. Knowing she is with her Heavenly Father her creator, and part of the great cloud of witnesses that See God and are new in his prescence. No more disease just the joy of The Lord, knowing she is praying us on to victory in Christ. When you pray to God she will be there with many saints who have gone before. May God give you strength to grieve but to celebrate her new life and her homecoming a place God had prepared for her long ago. Love, Judy & Vaughn Batemab

“ My heart aches for my buddy. I miss her tremendously. Knowing she is free of the evil cancer is the best. Heaven has called her back because they missed her so much...we always had a great time no matter where we were, what we were doing or who we were with, the more the merrier. Joyce always had a way to make all around her feel good. Bless you baby! Thanks for the memories....
