“ Kay: We certainly have enjoyed both Vic and You over the years. My dad Fred was extremely proud to be Vic's fishing buddy and the time he was able to spend with him until our Dad's passing. Now they can go fishing and enjoy the friendship that has endured a lifetime of memories for the both of them.

We will miss Vic a lot. Please take care and will see you soon.

“ Uncle Vic was a multi talented man! He loved life! He especially loved his little furry side kick, Opie! Opie brought so much love to Uncle Vic and Aunt Kay. I was at my mom's one time when Opie came with Uncle Vic to visit, and my mom loved having Opie on her lap. Opie brought so much joy! Uncle Vic had a twinkle in his eyes that you couldn't miss! We will miss you but will never forget you! Mary, Bob, Craig and Faith (our furry friend)

“ Uncle Vic: Well what can I say? A wonderful artist. Magnificent stained glass works. Avid fisher person. Just to name a few. Oh, and a great euchre player. I have fond memories of him and Aunt Kay. But, I think my most favorite was when he taught me to drive his golf cart. It was at one of their anniversary parties at Waffle Farms. I took one of the other aunts to the ladies room. But, we took the scenic route back to the party. Think she thought I was going to dump her in the water. We had such a good time tooling around the park. You know as I write this, I look at the picture with the obit. The smile says it all. R.I.P. Uncle Vic.

“ Uncle Vic was a great guy who was always laughing and joking. Family gatherings at Grandma and Grandpa Guenther's house with all the aunts, uncles, and cousins were so much fun. I'm pretty sure my Dad, Uncle Bob, Uncle Ted and Uncle Vic have a Euchre game going on by now. They are all loved and missed.

“ It has been wonderful having you as a brother. We shared so many things in our lives and the one thing I already miss is the Happy Birthday phone calls we had on February 24th for the past several years Ralph recalls the talks the two of you had about fishing and how both of you loved to fish.. Rest in peace brother and we will miss you but know you share heaven with loved ones who have passed before you.
