“ Mrs. Taylor was my first-grade teacher at Jensen School. I have fond memories of her and still see her taking walks around town to this day. I was very sorry to read the obituary for David and realize who it was. I remember David as a young man (he was a few years older than me). I always thought he was an only child but maybe his brothers were much older. I am very sorry for your loss. I have been praying for your family since I heard this news and will continue to pray for you to get through this difficult time. I hope things go well at the memorial on the 21st.

Sincerely,

Andrea Smith (formerly Andi Hartman)

“ I have so many fond memories of David, for most of our childhood David, Rick Pogliano and I were the best of friends. We spent countless hours drinking all the soda pop Mrs. Taylor would allow us to have while we were entrenched in mighty battles of world domination playing the board game Risk, or Monopoly, Stratego or whatever we could find. It was clear at an early age David would follow his brothers into Law - he had an amazing passion for arguing his case.

As kids, I also remember many late nights shooting pool in the Taylor's basement, fall days playing football in the front yard (where I broke my thumb one year - but refused to go home because I didn't want to miss out on the fun!), running around the neighborhood hopped up on halloween candy, and many happy birthday parties.

It deeply saddens me to hear of his passing. It's been many years now since we've seen each other. I want to extend my sincerest sympathies, thoughts and prayers to Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, Doug and Rich and their entire families. Life, even with it's inherent fragility, is the most precious of all God's gifts. I cherished the time we all enjoyed together.

David was and will forever remain my dear friend in this world and beyond.

Most sincerely,
