“ I remember when Uncle Al came to visit with my cousin Denny. I was younger than him but I remember how cute he was. I was the younger cousin who was infatuated with him. When Aunt Ivy died and we came out for the funeral I had bought a motorcycle and he told me what to wear and how to be safe. I am so sorry to read this. My last Cogan cousin. I am sad and will pray for him 🙏

“ Uncle Denny was always present in our lives growing up. Plenty of memories of him- to name a few- I remember him calming me when I was learning to drive a stick shift. He was always at our house hanging with my dad but payed attention to us kids too. He and I were big fans of Peter Frampton in the day, he bought me the live album. Years later, he searched for that same CD and brought it to me. I will truly miss him. I love you Uncle Denny,
