February 2, 1922 - June 26, 2017

Clinansmith, Estella Mae, on June 26, Estella left us and entered a much better place. Born Estella Mae Devour on February 2nd 1922, in Terre Haute Indiana, she lost her parents at a young age, moved to Michigan and was taken in by the Bolgos family who gave her employment on their dairy farm in exchange for room and board. There she met Charlie Clinansmith and the two were married in 1940. Estella later worked for Hoover Ballbearing, then as a Library Assistant for the Ann Arbor Public Library. The unassuming woman with the beautiful smile, who always put the needs of others before her own, will be greatly missed. She is survived by her three children, Judy (Jim) Mullin, Larry Clinansmith and Andy (Robin) Clinansmith and grandchildren, Carrie Harper, Suzanne Nowicki, Alan Clinansmith and Abby Ryan. A memorial service will be held on Saturday, July 8, 2017 at 2:00 pm at the Dexter Church of Christ, 8700 Jackson Rd., Dexter, MI 48130-8440. “ My fondest memory of my Great Grandma is just how much she cherished her family, especially her grandkids/greatgrandkids/greatgreatgrandkids. She always looked for opportunities to see us, even when it hurt to leave the house. She would never miss a holiday no matter the circumstance, even when it hurt to move. I've known her the entire 31 years of my life and that is something I will cherish forever. She went by many names, Estella, Mom, Grandma, Grandma Grandma, GeeGee, and finally Great Great Grandma and she wore each name proudly! I love you Grandma Grandma and I'm glad your'e no longer in pain.
