“ Dear Louise, the love of his life... and to his sweet big sister, Susan, who was always there as they grew up in Leon... my deepest sympathy. Jim was such a bright light in Leon, Iowa with an exuberant camaraderie of caring for everyone. Playing sports, great student, and keeping close to the community... if only dropping by to say a quick hello. Jim's presence will live long past his passing by the love he shared on his life's journey. Rest In Peace, Jim.

“ I am saddened to hear of Jim's passing and send my deepest condolences to his family. I had the pleasure of working with Jim on many service projects, particularly at Consumers Power. I could always rely on Jim to be very close to his customers and develop strong service relationships that won us many contracts over the years.

“ Condolences to all of Jim's family. I have not spoken to Jim in many years, but was head of the Sales organization when he retired, not too many years before I did. I remember especially the professional way he conducted himself and managed relationships between his company and his customers. Mentors and models for new people are so necessary in any thriving organization and he was very engaged in that as well. Thank you Jim.

“ My condolences to Jim's Family. I worked with Jim for several years prior to his retirement. It was always a great time, and I learned a lot from Jim in those years in terms of dealing with our customers. To date no one has really filled his shoes and he is missed for the wisdom he provided to "keep us in the game"

“ Louise, Condolences for your loss. Our team heard the news yesterday. Jim worked on our team for a few years. Jim was the consummate professional. He earned the respect of all with his fellow Westinghouse/Siemens co-workers with his hard work and dedication. He had deep customer relationships and helped us close a lot of business over his many years with the company. We missed him when he retired a couple of years ago and miss him now that he has passed on to our Lord.

With Sympathy,
Steve Johnston
