“ I just found out about this now. I worked with Rob for several years. Rob was a great coworker, friend, and even a better person. I had tried finding him cause we lost track of each other. I had always hoped to catch up with him someday. Life is short, but I still hope to catch up with him someday. RIP Rob

“ Rob never hesitated to lend us a hand or his generator. When our power would go out, he would bring it over and make certain that Rico had power for his oxygen and what all. We are so in shock and grief. Hugs to his family. From Rico and Alice.
