“ Thinking about Rob, and wanting to express the wonderful cousin he was to us. Even though I am out in California, the times we did get to visit and see each other were quality times. Rob always had good stories to tell, a great sense of humour but most of all you could always tell just by conversations how much he truly loved his family ❤️.i will always remember when my parents passed (his Uncle Chet and Aunt Maxine) and we invited him up to our hotel room to have a a visit with all of us. We had the best time hearing about each others stories growing up, things we did, and remembering mostly the holidays we all shared together. Rob loved deeply and with all his heart. We knew he thought the world of my folks, our Gram, his beloved Parents and Randi, Greg and his special lady in his life Brandy. He was taken away from all of us way too early, but will be remembered always in our hearts. We know he is in a good place and loving to be with his Dad (our dear Uncle Bob), our folks and Gram. Hope they are having a good meal together, a drink of sorts and probably playing some type of cards. Love you Rob, thanks for being such a wonderful cousin ❤️🙏🥺

“ This guy wasn't only my friend,He was my big brother. He was @ my house 2 days before this unfortunate thing,happened. We laughed our heads off,talking about old memories@ Brecon Village. The day I got a txt,saying he was No longer with us,was one sad day for me. He loved my Collard Greens. I had just fixed him a big pot,waiting for him to come pick them up. We lost a good Person. He will be TRULY missed. 😞

“ I’ve known Rob since I was maybe 10 or 11 years old. Here he is absolutely destroying me with a water balloon.

He was the kindest, funniest, goofiest person. He was my best friend for many years, and I could be completely my truest self with him. I feel deep sadness that I’m the only one left to remember our friendship how it really was. I’m so thankful to have had him in my life when I needed him most.

“ This is my place to go to feel my brother’s presence-it is peaceful and calms me. I think about our life together. So many memories flood over me.

I think how we loved our road trips together and how we shared the enjoyment of discovery and learning about each place we visited. Photography brought as joy as well. We would sometimes take the same shot and discuss who captured it the best.

We also liked cooking together. Rob had skill at putting together unique dishes... a big part of his life revolved around cooking. I remember occasions when I would play the role of sous chef. During this time we would have great conversations and lots of laughter.

To say Rob loved books is an understatement- he LOVED books.... some a little quirky in my opinion. Our taste was very different in our reading preference; but we shared that passion.

Rob is one of the kindest souls I have known. For those of you who knew him, you knew he literally would “give you the shirt off his back.” He was always there for family and friends and often gave consul and understanding to those who needed it at the time.

I will miss your presence all the remaining days of my life.

I wished I would have hugged you longer at the airport.

Rest in peace little brother.
