“ I remember when I was young, I was walking by the water with dad. I picked up what I thought was a special black and white rock. I showed it to him and he laughed and told me to put it down.. it ended up being bird poop....
He would always tease me about that when we went hunting for rocks and crystals.
My dad was always so silly and lighthearted, he was the life of the party, breaking out in dance moves and laughing with friends and family. He was so creative, always keeping busy, going after his goals. He inspired me to be creative, have fun on the dance floor, try out new foods, and always go for what my heart was set on. Im so happy he met Andrea and had a special bond with such an awesome and loving lady. He really deserved to be with someone like her. I wish we had more time with him. I like what a friend told me the other day, "Its like he went into the next room over but hes still in the same house."
Im sad I wont get to hear him say "Big hug, Big kiss" anymore, but I will forever cherish the memories and time I've had with him. He was always so positive and supportive and I will try to embody and carry on that spirit. He will be missed, so much.. rest easy daddy.

“ When we think of Wayne, we think of his warm smile. He always asked, “How are you?” and truly cared about the answer. He loved Jesus, his family, and others. Our hearts and prayers are with you all.
